

Journal photo by Steve McEnroe

Alex Johnson touch-up: Like a modern-day Michelangelo, Karil Harmon is finding herself high above the ground, painting a ceiling. She and her partner Ferol Conklin are touching up, and in some cases, completely recreating the Native American designs that embellish the ceiling of the lobby of Hotel Alex Johnson, portions of which have been damaged by water over the years. The work should be completed by Friday.

5-12