Interior Notes:

Physical Notes: The two-story Colonial Revival style house has a parged foundation, and an asphalt shingle side-gable roof. Stucco clads the first story; historic wood shingles clad the slightly overhanging second story. An exterior brick chimney rises on the east elevation. Stucco clad-columns articulate the southeast and southwest corners. Two bays organize the first story of the primary (south) elevation. A projecting wood frame with a broken pediment surrounds the historic wood door in Bay 1; an angled bay window fills Bay 2. It has two historic eight-over-eight double-hung wood windows in the center and historic four-over-four double-hung wood windows on each side. Historic eight-over-eight double-hung wood windows with shutters fill three symmetrical bays on the second story.
