5) LF091119-06 – Nordstrom asked Dave Yuhas, Grants Compliance Manager, and Ann Hines, RSVP+ Volunteer Coordinator, to explain to the committee what the possibility of this grant means to the RSVP+ program. Yuhas stated that Black Hills State University had previously sponsored this grant for several years which covered nine counties, and just recently decided to relinquish the grant. The state office then reached out to the City to see if there was an interest in applying for the grant. Yuhas explained that it is important to keep these funds in South Dakota because if the funds leave, they will not come back. The grant would bring an additional $82,000 in federal funds to the program. Yuhas thanked the committee for their support of the program. Hines said there are only three or four RSVP+ programs left in the state and there are currently a little over 600 volunteers in the Pennington County, Fall River area. She added that the grant is a great funding opportunity to help grow the funds, the volunteer base and the program in general, in turn keeping the program off the City budget. Hines said the grant does require approximately 275 volunteers in the Northern Hills area after three years, which currently has between three to four hundred volunteers in that area. Hines has met with Black Hills State and the Advisory Council and they do not see a concern, feeling assured the program will be successful. Finance Officer Sumption pointed out that a couple of years ago the City was looking at discontinuing the program because it was receiving so much... supplemental income from the general fund. Sumption credits Hines and Yuhas for bringing the program where it is today, because not only has the current program been maintained without any general fund money, but also they now have been given this opportunity to expand the program, which is a remarkably quick turnaround in just a couple of years. Hines informed the committee that the Annual Recognition Banquet for the volunteers will be held this Saturday at the Canyon Lake Activities Center at 11:00 am. Nordstrom moved to authorize the Mayor and Finance Officer to sign the 2020 Corporation for National Community Services (CNCS) Grant Application and to
