The Rapid City Area MPO is working to establish a cohesive vision for the Sixth Street corridor from Rushmore Plaza Civic Center to the Performing Arts Center and exploring opportunities to make it more walkable, bikeable, and livable, including an improved crossing of Omaha Street! The project team will hold an initial public meeting from 3:30 pm to 6:00 pm on Tuesday, March 10th at the Rapid City Public Library, Hoyt Room (610 Quincy Street) to educate area residents about the study and gather input regarding the future of Sixth Street.

The public meeting will have an informal open house format, allowing for one-on-one discussion with the project team. Brief presentations will be given at approximately 4:00 PM and 5:00 PM. The purpose of this meeting is to introduce the study to the public and gather input on both opportunities and challenges along the Sixth Street corridor.

For those who cannot attend the public meeting, information about the study is available online at www.sixthstreetstudy.com. The website also provides the opportunity to view an online map of the study area and pin a comment to a specific location of interest. Presentations and displays shown at the public meeting will be available online within a few days of the public meeting.
