PRESENTATION

Director Stephanie Mayfield gave a presentation on the West River Area Health Education Center (WR AHEC). She said the WRAHEC mission is to create collaborations and programs which inspire people to pursue healthcare careers and equip healthcare professionals to serve in rural and underserved communities throughout western South Dakota. Out of 17 Labor Grants, Rural Health Works South Dakota received one of them. It is for $2.5 Million dollars over four years. The performance period is February 1, 2021 to January 31, 2025. To qualify for funds a person has to be 17 or older; unemployed, under-employed or incumbent workers looking to upskill; nursing assistants; licensed practical nurses and registered nurses (AND and BSN). Salamun said this was great incentive to create more nursing opportunities in Rapid City. It was clarified that a person can't enter the program right out of high school.

Human Relations Commission / Minneluzahan Okolakiciyapi Ambassadors (HRC/MOA) gave a presentation on the Pine Ridge Tour which was taken on April 7, 2022. Alderpersons Laura Armstrong, Bill Evans and Ritchie Nordstrom went on the tour. The following ambassadors spoke on behalf of the commission: Karen Mortimer, Lloyd LaCroix, Jessica Rogers and Denise Maher. Bill May and Joel Landeen, along with representatives from Black Hills Community Bank, Black Hills Energy and Elevate, also went on the tour. News media accompanied them to tell the story afterwards. The tour included Red Cloud Indian School; meeting with the Oglala Sioux Tribal Council; driving to Wounded Knee and they finished at the Lakota Art Space. Each person thought the experience was powerful. The tour group learned more about the language, culture and heritage. The people of Pine Ridge come to Rapid City for a variety of activities from shopping to concerts to pow-wows to sports to just spending time with friends and family. They are an extension of the Rapid City community. The HRC/MOA is interested in visiting Rosebud and Cheyenne reservations. They enjoyed the interaction with one another and look forward to the next visit.

GENERAL PUBLIC COMMENT

Darla Drew asked for a point of privilege regarding her dad's passing. She read an old newspaper clipping to honor her dad.

Chuck Henrie voiced concerns about one-access point for a few developments in Rapid City. He thinks every developer needs to repair and finish sidewalks and make them ADA compliant. The sidewalks need to be kept clean to allow disabled people to use them
