

REGISTRATION POLICY

February 14, 2022 ~~March 13, 2023~~

Account holders, or guarantors of minor children's accounts, are liable for materials checked out to their account; they should not loan their library card to others, and if lost or stolen, the cardholder must report that loss to the library as soon as possible. If desired, account holders may designate one authorized user for their account. The authorized user must have a library account in good standing, then is permitted to check out items on behalf of the cardholder; however, the account holder is liable for materials checked out by their designated authorized user.

Resident library accounts are available to individuals who provide proof of a physical residence within the city limits of Rapid City or within Pennington County. Proof includes documentation that one resides at, owns or rents a physical residence or business in the city or county, or that one receives mail, at no cost, at a local agency that assists individuals who are homeless or living in transitional housing. Addresses are verified through Rapid City's geographic information system.

Post Office boxes, personal mailbox services and commercial mail service addresses may be used as a mailing address but do not constitute verification of a physical residence. ~~Patrons who provide an address at locations primarily expected to be short term, seasonal or used to establish mail services without an ongoing local presence may purchase a non-resident account. Or, they may receive an/180 Day Resident account by providing proof of their physical residence lasting 180 days or longer within an annual period. If they had previously paid for a non-resident account, they may be eligible for a refund after providing proof of their residence lasting 180 days or longer.~~

If a person has fines or fees at another Black Hills Library Consortium library, that blocked account must be cleared before receiving an RCPL account.

A photograph will be taken at the time of registration; such photos are confidential, as is all patron account information. Inclusion of the photos will:

1. Help prevent the use of lost or stolen library cards;
2. Assist staff in identifying and serving patrons who have forgotten their cards;
3. Aid in the location of patrons in case of an emergency.
