Library has vital history on tape

By SALLY FARRAH

What historic commentary on instant replay?

A tape is a piece in a new version of the Rapid City Public Library at Earl and Kansas City streets.

The information is far ranging and can be of value to educators, persons who have difficulty making time to read, researchers, program chairman and the public.

The library has become a subscriber to a new video library service, and has the opportunity to order tape cassettes, and now to rent video for a certain period.

It is expected that the library will receive a full video service in the near future.

A player is available for use at the library, but at present the public library does not have one.

Mrs. Barkman, who chairs the library board, said that the library is planning to lease a video projector.

Miss Barkman, who chairs the library board, said that the library is planning to lease a video projector.

The projector is used to show video tapes of all types, and is expected to be very popular with the public.

The projector is used to show video tapes of all types, and is expected to be very popular with the public.

Newspaper articles and records are available to show the different parts of the city.

The projector is used to show video tapes of all types, and is expected to be very popular with the public.

The projector is used to show video tapes of all types, and is expected to be very popular with the public.

A player is available for use at the library, but at present the public library does not have one.

Mrs. Barkman, who chairs the library board, said that the library is planning to lease a video projector.

Miss Barkman, who chairs the library board, said that the library is planning to lease a video projector.

The projector is used to show video tapes of all types, and is expected to be very popular with the public.

The projector is used to show video tapes of all types, and is expected to be very popular with the public.

Newspaper articles and records are available to show the different parts of the city.

The projector is used to show video tapes of all types, and is expected to be very popular with the public.

The projector is used to show video tapes of all types, and is expected to be very popular with the public.